...'s second major blackout ... was pronounced successful by state and local civilian defense leaders. Rural as well as urban areas were affected by the 21-county test.

State Defense Director Ralph R. Stone and Maj. Charles S. Miller, liaison officer between the Army and the state defense council, viewed the blackout from the roof of Canton's tallest building, the 12-story First National Bank building.

Stone called Canton's experiment "the best I've ever seen out of 50 or 60 places I've been." He added that enemy bombers would have had a difficult time locating industrial plants in the Canton area.

Canton Response Praised

"Excellent," was Major Miller's comment on the Canton blackout.

A red neon sign on a photographic studio glowed during the first part of Massillon's trial. The violation was attributed to a faulty switch, as the sign had been turned off at the first public warning.

Mayor John H. Morrison of Van Wert, commander of the Van Wert county defense council, said the trial was successful except for six homes in the city and three in the county which remained lighted, and four motorists who kept their headlights burning. FOOD OFFICIALS IN SPOTLIGHT

Patman Asks for Explanation from Brown and Davis on Conflicting Orders.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 9—President Roosevelt's anti-inflation order turned new attention today on the Capitol Hill testimony of two key food officials in the wake of accusations that the OPA was to blame for black markets.

Chairman Patman (D-Tex) of the house small business committee, now probing charges of food bootlegging, said he would ask Food Administrator Chester C. Davis and Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown today: (1) Why have conflicting regulations been issued on the food front. (2) why hasn't there been a housecleaning of those issuing them, and (3) why is there lack of coordination between the OPA and the food administration".

The OPA was accused by a witness yesterday of contributing to the operation of food black markets by "arbitrary, capricious and confiscatory" regulations, and Patman proposed a shakeup of OPA personnel.

DECATUR ST. MAN INJURED IN ATTACK

Struck Following Dispute Over Purchase of Beer.

George Strang, 64, who lives at the home of his brother, Dan Strang, at 566 Decatur street is in City hospital today as a result of injuries suffered in an attack around midnight last night following a dispute which he said occurred at the O. K. cafe on East Center street.

Held by city police on investigation is a 40-year-old man who, according to Strang, was with him at the cafe shortly before midnight last night. Police had not completed their investigation at noon today and Chief William E. Marks said no charges would be filed until late this afternoon. Police were also checking the man being held as a possible parole violator.

At the hospital this morning Strang told a reporter the cafe disorder started when he refused to buy a dozen bottles of beer for the "friend." He said he had bought the man a number of things in recent months and that considerable money was still owed him.

He said he left the cafe alone shortly afterward, walking north on Grand avenue to Kentucky avenue and then west on Kentucky to Decatur street. He said as he entered the backyard to his brother's home he was attacked. He named the man held by police as his attacker.

Several blows about the face kayoed Strang. Today he said he believed the attack took place shortly after midnight. He was not found until about 1:15 when his moans attracted his brother, who found him lying in the back yard.

Police were called at 1:24 a. m. and soon afterward he was rushed to the hospital.

Dr. M. M. Weinbaum said Strang suffered deep lacerations inside his mouth and two black eyes. His condition was not considered serious.

Second War Loan Drive in County To Begin Monday

Kick-off Meeting Arranged; Women's Division Picks Key Workers.

Two important developments in preparations for Marion county's part in the nationwide 13-billion-dollar second War Loan campaign to get under way next week were announced today.

One was the selection of Monday night for the Marion county kick-off meeting, to be held in the Marion club rooms of Hotel Harding Monday night at 7:30. Fred E. Guthery, county chairman, and William C. Doody of Cleveland, here to assist with the drive, are busy making plans for this session, to be attended by all committee members and workers.

The other development was announcement that the women's division of the county war bond committee headed by Miss Maud Gorham has undertaken the residential canvassing phase of the Marion county drive.

Miss Gorham has turned over a list of women captains to Mr. Guthery, and preparations are being made for their part of the selling job in which Marion county residents will be asked to buy an extra bond a week during a three-week campaign period.

The women captains, who will name others to work with them, are Mrs. Clarence Weber of 195 Wildwood court, Mrs. William Arndt of 259 East Walnut street, Mrs. Frank Foster of 396 East Church street, Miss Dorothy Haynes of 355 Bellefontaine avenue, Mrs. John T. McNamara of 544 Courtland avenue, Mrs. W. E. Miley of 203 South Seffner avenue, Mrs. James E. Rissler of 331 South Vine street, Mrs. George E. Turner of 381 Hane avenue, Mrs. David Coble of 255 Summit street, Mrs. J. D. Williamson of 239 Bellefontaine avenue, Mrs. W. E. Orcutt of 311 Bellefontaine avenue, Mrs. Morgan E. RULES DRAFTED TO MAKE FARM AND WAGE ORDERS EFFECTIVE

Nazis Pull Out from Mahares Near Vital Port; British Take 9,500 Prisoners and Americans 1,300.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, April 9—Axis forces are abandoning Mahares, only 22 miles south of the vital harbor of Sfax, and the railway town of Mezzouna in a continuing withdrawal under allied blows on a broad front between the central Tunisian mountains and the sea, it was disclosed today.

Armored vanguards of the British Eighth Army pursued Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's beaten men, who were fleeing north from Mahares and northeast from Mezzouna, 32 miles from Sfax, under the hammering of the western desert air force.

A communique announced the Eighth Army had taken 9,500 prisoners since the initial attack on Rommel's Wadi El Akarit positions Tuesday morning and military quarters said 1,300 more were captured by the U. S. Second Army corps in the mop-up of the El Guetar sector.

The achievements of the American corps, headed by Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton Jr., in engaging the bulk of the axis armor earlier this week on the Eighth Army's left flank were highly praised at a press conference by Gen. Sir Harold L. Alexander, allied deputy commander in chief.

(A Transocean dispatch broadcast by the Berlin radio and recorded by The Associated Press said "the great superiority of the enemy in men and material is showing its effect.")

While American and British aerial squadrons maintained assaults upon retiring axis columns, it was announced that 130 enemy vehicles had been destroyed and 200 damaged in the past two days.

Pressed hard by the Eighth Army, Rommel was growing short of motor transports to extricate his rear guards.

A small force of British naval motor craft engaged a strongly escorted enemy convoy by night off the port of Bizerte, sank one supply ship and scored two torpedo hits on another, it was announced.

First Army Drives On

The British First army continued its offensive in the north, attacking over difficult terrain, and occupied tactically impotant localities, it was announced.

Since Wednesday more than 400 prisoners have been taken in that area, the communique said.

Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's Eighth army, pushing up the coastal plain along the Gulf of Gabes, was approaching a junction with a second American column fighting from the central Tunisian mountains toward the sea.

Strong forces of light bombers and fighter-bombers maintained their attacks on enemy troops and vehicles along Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's escape corridor.

Seven allied aircraft were reported missing from the aerial operations.

American troops under Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton Jr., were pounding at German armored forces near Mezzouna, only 25 miles from the coastal road along which Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's troops were withdrawn amid the wreckage and death spread by constant allied aerial attacks on his columns.

50 Miles From Sfax

The Eighth army was officially reported to have advanced 15 miles north of the captured enemy line at Wadi El Akarit and there were indications advance elements of the desert veterans were in the Cekhira (La Skhirra) region, only 15 miles below Graiba and within 50 miles of the important port of Sfax.

The Americans, 25 miles from Graiba, were reported engaged in bitter fighting with the Germans, who must hold off the onrushing United States troops to avoid be-

U. S. TO LIMIT PRICE OF HOGS

Ceiling To Be Rolled Back from About $16 to $14.50 a Hundred Pounds.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 9 — The government intends shortly, it was learned authoritatively today, to roll back the market price of live hogs from current levels of nearly $16 a hundred pounds to about $14.50, and at the same time provide "support prices" to give hog producers additional payments.

Officials, who asked that their names be withheld, indicated that OPA Chief Prentiss M. Brown and Food Administrator Chester C. Davis had agreed on such a program and would issue a public statement later in the day. It was understood, however, the statement merely would announce that the action would be taken soon, and the actual order was not expected today.

The action, which actually has been pending several weeks, was described as the first major result of President Roosevelt's order last night to "hold the line" on all farm prices and wages.

Purpose of the hog ceilings, it was explained, was to assure packers of pork prices consistent with the wholesale and retail meat orders of OPA. Some packers had 3,700 Quit Work When Guards Halt Gambling.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, April 9—A dispute that started when plant protection men broke up a dice game in a lavatory halted production on armored war vehicles today at the Ford Motor company's Highland Park plant, a company spokesman said.

There was no immediate comment from spokesmen for the workers.

The company spokesman said more than 500 men stopped work at 2:45 a. m. after the plant protection men took the badges of the crap-shooters and told them to report to the labor relations office.

When the day shift came on duty at 8:30 a. m., an additional 2,700 men refused to go to work, he added. By 9 a. m. 1,000 men in another unit of the plant had joined the stoppage.

The company reported 431 men in the transportation division at the Rouge plant were idle because of a wage dispute. In both disputes, the spokesman said, the workers remained in the plants, milling about and making speeches.

POTATO PRICES RAISED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 9—OPA today increased the May and June prices on white potatoes 20 cents per 100 pounds and dry onions 20 cents per 50 pounds over original schedules, saying the action was necessary to spread out shipments during the late season and discourage growers from trying to sell off their crops before May. Compared with current prices, the increase will be 10 cents per 100 pounds of potatoes or 50 pounds of onions.

PRICE LIMITS COMING SOON ON ALL FOODS

President Reports Order Will Cover All Items Affecting Cost of Living.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 9—President Roosevelt said today that dollars-and-cents ceiling prices probably would be placed on all food commodities which affect living costs, while James F. Byrnes, economic stabilization director, said the office of price administration might be able to prevent specific ceiling price plans tomorrow, following those now laid down for meats.

Byrnes was sitting in on a presidential press conference, which dealt largely with the Chief Executive's new order designed to help combat inflation through more rigid restrictions on prices and wages.

The President said the whole problem resembles a four-legged stool.

Food prices are one leg, wages another, rationing a third, and taxation and saving are the fourth, he said.

An effort is being made, he said, to prevent ups and downs and to get on a more even level, using all four legs to prevent the stool from falling over.

Fourth Leg Is Taxes

His executive order was a step in that direction, he said, but congress still has to provide the fourth leg, taxes and savings.

Asked whether $16,000,000,000 is still the administration's goal on new revenue as mentioned in his budget message to congress, Mr. Roosevelt said it is the administration's hope.

He was asked, also, how materially he has increased the powers given Byrnes, and Mr. Roosevelt turned that question over to Byrnes.

The stabilization director replied that he knew of no material increase except that he has received greater authority to determine questions that will arise in the OPA and the war labor board as to border and hardship cases. Such cases, under the new order, he said, will be submitted to him for consideration, instead of to the President personally.

Byrnes said his power to issue directives was no greater than the authority previously granted him.

"Was the order a mandate to Mr. Byrnes?" a reporter inquired.

No, the President said, it was a statement of policy.

Mr. Roosevelt said he got his idea of the comparison with a four legged stool from one of the group of farm leaders which consulted with him twice in the past fortnight.

Provides for Changes

In connection with rationing, he suggested it should be applied with what might be called a leeway, since prices have to be changed from time to time, depending on scarcity or plenty. He indicated, too, that the question of determining specific food prices might be handled regionally, locally, or by areas, so as to avoid a situation such as developed recently in Washington. One week, he said, there were screaming headlines here that there was no meat to be had and shortly after there were screaming headlines that there was so much meat it was spoiling.

Mr. Roosevelt said he thought everyone should avoid over-playing either scarcity or plenty because that is not good for public morale. He will have trouble, he said, if the public stops buying all at one time or tries all to buy at the same time.

After declaring that probably dollars and cents price ceilings would be placed on foods, the President was asked whether that would extend to things in department stores.

His reply was that the things department stores handle are not all edibles.

Questioned as to whether the President Puts Broad Limit on Agricultural Prices and Right To Raise Pay.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 9—Official Washington mobilized a small army of its rule-drafters today in an effort to speed compliance with an overnight order from President Roosevelt to hold farm prices and wages at almost rigid levels of the day.

First action came from the war labor board, which telegraphed its regional offices and related agencies to stop all wage increases "except those that clearly come within the 15 per cent limitation of the Little Steel formula."

At the office of price administration officials indicated early orders could be expected freezing the market prices of livestock and other basic agricultural commodities.

The war manpower commission is under orders to prohibit workers from shifting jobs in search of higher pay, and utility commissions were warned to hold or cut rates in line with the government's policy of keeping down the cost of living.

Congress, which has been unable in recent weeks to agree on a method of putting income taxes on a pay-as-you-go basis, faces a presidential request for more taxes and more savings.

Explaining his action in a press statement, Mr. Roosevelt indicated he thought it dangerous to the nation's economy to keep arguing about particular concessions for farmers or laborers, and declared he was moved to act by the senate's failure this week to kill the Bankhead farm price bill. The bill, which Mr. Roosevelt had vetoed as inflationary, was placed in legislative cold storage when the farm bloc was unable to muster sufficient votes to override the veto.

"I am advised that weeks or months from this date the bill may be reported for consideration," Mr. Roosevelt said.

"I cannot wait to see whether the (agriculture) committee at some future date will again report the bill to the senate. I cannot permit a continuance of the upward spiral of prices."

At the outset he declared:

"To hold the line we cannot tolerate further increases in prices affecting the cost of living or further increases in general wage or salary rates except where clearly necessary to correct substandard living conditions. The only way to hold the line is to stop trying to find justifications for not holding it here or not holding it there.

"No one straw may break a camel's back, but there is always a last straw. We cannot afford to take further chances in relaxing the line. We already have taken too many."

Politically, the action was interpreted as an effort to stave withdrawing demands of labor based on rising farm prices and of farmers based on rising wages. It also regarded as the White House answer to John L. Lewis' demands for a $2 a day increase in the mine wages.

In directing Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown and Food and Administrator Chester C. Davis to put ceilings over farm prices, the President specified that in some cases, in which prices already are above the levels of Sept. 15, 1942, the prices "be rolled back."

In this connection, it was understood OPA would like to depress hog prices from their current levels in the vicinity of $16 per hundredweight down to about $14.80. Some farm commodities which still are below parity levels may be spared temporarily from maximums.

The President's action on farm prices was interpreted by government economists as preventative. The processed products sold to consumers—meat from livestock, bread from wheat, etc.—are already controlled fairly thoroughly. But by holding the price of the basic commodities, the President was represented as trying to forestall any future pressures against retail prices of the final products. Except for farm prices, officials said the civilian items presently outside of price control are negligible. Fresh fish and poultry are examples.

With regard to wages, the President said the regulatory agencies "are directed to authorize no further increase in wages or salaries except such as are clearly necessary to correct substandards of living, provided that nothing herein shall be construed to prevent such agencies from making such wage or salary readjustments

President's Order Limits WLB Authority To Increase Wages

Action Seen as Answer to John L. Lewis' Challenge of Administration's Wartime Economic Program.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 9—President Roosevelt's new anti-inflation stroke drastically limits the war labor board's field of authority by removing the No. 1 basis for wage increases in excess of the "Little Steel" formula—"inequalities."

Some informed persons regarded the President's action as an assumption of personal responsibility for answering John L. Lewis' challenge of the administration's wartime economic program.

The WLB, taken by surprise, may grant increases on two premises only: the 15 per cent little steel formula and substandards. The 12 regional war labor boards are in the process of determining, in terms of cents per hour, what constitutes a substandard wage for their respective areas.

The executive order was issued last night without prior consultation with the war labor board, with the possible exception of one or two of the public members. By coincidence, the board had scheduled a meeting for last night and decided immediately on convening to seek a conference with Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes to preclude any misinterpretation of the order.

Orders Cases Held Up

The WLB also telegraphed its regional boards to withhold, pending further instructions, all wage approvals except those which clearly come within the 15 per cent limitation of the little steel formula. Final decisions on wages which had been reached before 7:30 p. m., eastern war time, when the President's order was released, may be issued to the parties.

Wage and hour offices throughout the country also were notified to cease issuing rulings pending a re-examination of general orders by the board.

The principal basis for wage increases approved by the board in recent months was not the little steel formula, but "inequalities." The little steel formula is a simple mathematical proposition which compensates in part for the increased cost-of-living. The board says, as a general rule, groups of employes who have not had a 15 per cent increase in their straight time, average hourly earnings since Jan. 1, 1941, shall be deemed to be suffering a maladjustment.

Inequalities Created

An adjustment up to a total of 15 per cent was allowed under that formula. However, many employers, voluntarily, had granted

Two Errors Cost Rommel Heavily in Africa Battle

By DON WHITEHEAD
AP War Correspondent

WITH THE BRITISH EIGHTH ARMY NORTH OF GABES, April 7—(Delayed)—It is now apparent that Field Marshal Rommel has made a mistake—or rather two mistakes—which may go a long way toward shortening the war in Tunisia.

In the first place he pulled the bulk of his tank strength back from positions facing the British Eighth army to meet an American threat on his flank, presumably on the assumption the Eighth would be unable to attack as soon as it did.

In the second place, when the attack came, he obviously misjudged the direction of the British main thrust and counter-attacked in a sector which failed to slow up the push.

Rommel apparently did not expect the British attack to be directed at the strongest defenses on his front, but that was where Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery chose to throw the weight of his infantry, guns and armor.

Within a matter of hours the Wadi El Akarit and the anti-tank ditches beyond it had been bridged and armor was pouring across into the milewide gap between the heights of Fatnassa and Roumana, which command the entire coastal plain.

When Rommel counter-attacked with 20 tanks and 1,000 infantrymen, he struck on the east side of Roumana instead of hitting at the gap between the heights, thus leaving the British free to exploit this bridgehead.

Fatnassa and Roumana were the keys to the whole situation. Desert-wise British troops turned mountain fighters to storm these rocky knobs and surprise the German-Italian defenders, who apparently had not anticipated such a bold move.

Indian Gurkhas swarmed up the steep slopes to seize Fatnassa while picked British troops clambered up Roumana.

Once in control of the heights, and with their armor and anti-tank guns across the wadi, the British were ready when the enemy counter-attacked in the afternoon.

The enemy then apparently realized that his position was hopeless and began withdrawing under cover of darkness, but not before the British had taken more than 5,000 prisoners—all but 98 of them Italians.

SCHOOL GROUPS PLAN SERVICES

Pre-Easter Program Set by Harding Girl Reserves and Hi-Y Clubs.

[illegible] girl Reserves and the Junior Hi-Y clubs at the Y. M. C. A., Wednesday night, final organizations plans were made for the annual pre-Easter services to be held at the Central Christian church, April 18 to 21.

Earl N. Hale, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was in charge of the meeting with three faculty advisors from the high school, Miss Margery Epson, Mrs. Charles [illegible], and Miss Margaret Wise attending. The group decided to hold the meeting from 8:10 to 8:40 p. m. so as to permit the annual Easter morning observance at the Harding tomb as usual.

Per the five services, the general theme will be "Sources of Power." The subheading for the five days will be fellowship, Bible, prayer, meditation and Christ. Student speakers will present the topics of fellowship and prayer. The last service, with Christ as the theme, will have as speaker a minister from one of the city churches. For the other two days, devotions and general worship service will take place.

The student speakers chosen by the high school group were Mary Jane Llewellyn and John Bryans, both seniors. Miss Llewellyn will talk on power through fellowship and Bryans on prayer.

For each of the services two student chairman from the Girl Reserves and the Hi-Y's were selected. They are as follows: April 15, Mary Johnson and Robert Dorfe; April 16, Peggy Hale and John McKenney; April 19, June Deitsch and Charles Elliott; April 20, Eleanor Swain and Marshall Browne; and April 21, Joan Bonnette and Don Richardson.

A promotion committee was chosen to publicize the services and to give the Harding students an understanding of the importance of the services. This committee includes: Charles Elliott, chairman, Patricia Bryans, Jean Quackenbush and William Luce.

The pre-Easter services were started in 1933 and have steadily increased in popularity with the Harding student body. Mr. Hale gave an example of the pupils' interest in the observances. He referred to a meeting held last year on a day of very unfavorable weather when Marion was covered by a foot of snow. Nevertheless attendance at the services totaled more than 250.

PROSPECT MAN NAMED AIDE OF CAP OFFICER

Sgt. Carl Green Appointed by Marion Executive Officer.

Military courtesy and discipline was practiced at the Thursday night meeting of the Marion flight, Civil Air Patrol, held at CAP headquarters in the former State Street school. Executive Officer W. R. Reichenstein conducted the classes. He announced the appointment of Sgt. Carl Green of Prospect as his aide.

All members are to meet at the airport on Sunday at 2 p. m. for special duties. Staff officers have been ordered to attend a meeting in Galion Sunday at 10 a. m. The next regular meeting will be held at 8 p. m. Monday at Harding High school when the study of aerial photograph reading and aerial map reading will be continued.

CAP members are continuing to do volunteer airport guard duty, day and night up to midnight, when regular paid guard reports for duty.

District Youth Group Plans Marion Meeting

A quartet of ministers from Otterbein college at Westerville will be guests of the Young People's Fellowship club of Marion in a special service tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in the Y.M.C.A. Delegations from Norton, Thompson Chapel, Brush Ridge and surrounding communities are expected and the service is open to the public. The quartet will broadcast over radio station WMRN at 9:05 p. m. on the Gospel Fellowship hour of which Rev. Marvin Lewis of Marion is director.

UPPER SANDUSKIAN KILLED AT CROSSING

William Selover, 78, Dies as Train Hits Car.

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, April 9—William Selover, 78, and his pet rat terrier, inseparable companions in life met death together when Mr. Selover's car was hit by a westbound Pennsylvania passenger train at the Warpole street crossing here Thursday.

Witnesses told Sheriff Fred L. Jonas and Marshal Adolph Kirchner that the aged man apparently did not notice the warning flashers, nor the approaching train as he neared the crossing from the south and drove onto the tracks just ahead of the train.

The car was demolished and scattered along the right-of-way. Damage to the train was slight although a board walk crossing and a switch lock were torn from the tracks. The train proceeded. The body was removed to the Bringman & Co. funeral home.

William Selover was born in Mifflin township, the son of the late John and Eliza Selover. He was united in marriage to Lide Brush of Forest, who died many years ago. A daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Davidson of Connecticut, survives. His wife by a later marriage, formerly Sadie Cummins, died seven years ago. Also surviving are a brother and a sister, J. W. Selover and Miss Lily Selover, both of Ada.

OHIO RESTAURANT MEN FIGHT FOR TAX REPEAL

Will Initiate Referendum Unless Legislature Acts.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 9—The Ohio State Restaurant association, an official said today, will initiate a referendum to repeal at the polls the sales tax on food sold in eating establishments unless the state legislature reverses itself in the present session.

The Republican majority in the house unanimously rejected in caucus Wednesday Gov. Bricker's proposal to repeal this tax and also the sales tax on prescription medicine. The senate unanimously approved repeal previously.

Robert R. Williams, executive secretary, said "we either shall get the co-operation of the legislature, or we shall start a repeal referendum to be placed before the public at the fall election."

Williams termed the sales tax on food consumed on restaurant premises unconstitutional and discriminatory, since the tax on food purchased for home consumption is exempt.

House Speaker William McCulloch said the Republicans pledged themselves not to sign a petition to relieve the taxation committee of the sales tax repealer. This meant, he said, that the caucus wanted the bill "to proceed no further."

...report from Washington ...gressman Smith asserts ...ople of this country ...ediately be aroused to ... danger to our free... sovereignty that is in... volved in this clandestine move...ment."

He asked a series of questions. "Why all the secrecy? Who want... to get control of our gold supply. Who are the real forces back of this sinister scheme? Why did Mr. Morgenthau and the interests he represents, in setting up this plan, take the rest of the world into their confidence and fail to let our own people know anything about it?"

"I condemn this act as I consider it as being underhanded and wholly unfair to the American people," Congressman Smith declared. "I shall do all within my power to inform my people of the peril that is involved in this secret New Deal scheme."

Chorus Formed by Group at Marion Steam Shovel Co.

Lunch Hour Singing for Recreation Leads to an Organization of Workers; Company Sponsors Project.

A plant project at the Marion Steam Shovel Co. — organization of the Marion Steam Shovel Chorus, gives the city its newest and most unusual musical organization. New, because it has not as yet been heard in a public program and unusual, since it is believed to be the first chorus of its kind to be made up entirely of local talent.

Approximately 60 voices make up the chorus and the membership includes men and women from every department of the plant. Rehearsals are held each Thursday evening from 5 to 6 o'clock in the general office, under the direction of Merle V. Lashey, with Howard Orr as the assistant director.

Rehearsal Attendance Good

The chorus is a plant organization in the fullest sense of the word as practically every person, from the official family to the newest employe — whether they are gifted with a singing voice or only lend support from the sidelines — is enthusiastically praising the chorus. And mingled with this pride is a bit of amazement on the part of the leaders in the movement over the enthusiastic response when the call went out for volunteers, the growth of the organization and the faithful attendance at practice meetings since the chorus started. "It means something when men and women work all day and then spend an extra hour practicing singing," Mr. Lashey said, and added "it's usually 15 or 20 minutes longer, but no one seems to mind."

There are several reasons why there is a Marion Steam Shovel Chorus. A number of men who remain at the plant during the noon hour found recreation in some barber shop harmonizing, Mr. Lashey explained, and the music met with approval of and hearty applause from their fellow employes. This, plus encouragement from D. J. Shelton, president of the company, who while not a member of the chorus does have an "ear" for music, "wondered why we couldn't have a plant chorus." Announcement of the organization of the chorus was placed on the bulletin board in the various departments and the response was voluntary.

Many Have Training

Practically all members of the chorus have had training in music and many are members of church choirs. The balance in the various parts is most satisfactory, Mr. Lashey said and the harmony he describes as most gratifying.

Leaders of the various groups are responsible for the attendance at the rehearsals and, with the officers, serve as a music committee. Music is provided by the company and selections range from sacred to semi-classical and popular number. In addition to chorus work the repertoire includes solo, duet and quartet numbers.

Rehearsals have been in progress since the chorus was organized Feb. 4, this year. Officers chosen are Irving Dutt, president; Henry Ruhl, vice president and Mrs. Edna Ginder, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Elizabeth Curren is pianist. Group leaders are Reva Smart, Ethel Faye Locker, Lelia McDonald, Thomas Griffiths, Herman Wohlschlag and Myron Glick.

Director of Group

Mr. Lashey, director, is employed in the engineering department and has been with the company since 1918. He has always been interested in music and at present is director of the choir at Wesley Methodist church and a member of the Marion Civic chorus. He was a member of the Canto club, an outstanding men's chorus in Marion a number of years ago.

The club's initial appearance will be Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. over the Marion radio station WMRN. Tentative plans include a program over the air once a month, Mr. Lashey states. Harvey T. Gracely will give a talk in behalf of the company on the broadcast.

Members of the chorus include: Reva Smart, Florence Zachman, Peggy Keefe, Gevena Albert, Dorothy Stephenson, Cecelia Snyder, Kathryn Andrews, Leora Shannon, Marguerite Leyer, Vera Carpenter, Emma Bishop, Edna Ginder, Ethel Faye Locker, Howard Orr, Ivan C. Howard, Frank Klaus, J. E. Frank, J. E. Barker, S. W. Zachman, Ray Buckingham, Leila McDonald, Frances Dull, Helen Glassmeyer, Marlene Clark, Rose Marie Rizzo, Virginia Epley, Doris Brading, Isabelle Fye, Alice Pierce, Edema Koenig, Wilma March, Eloise Tobin, Anna May Tobin, Margaret Clevenger, Thomas L. Griffiths, C. E. Williams, Pat Murphy, Harry Williams, Don Cox, William LeMasters, Herman H. Wohlschlag, Sy Hill, John H. Huffman, Ralph Mills, Robert Lashey, Everett Smith, Curtis Laubner Jr., Charles E. Bowers, Irving L. Dutt, W. Myron Glick, Richard Wright, Walter Corrigan, Charles Sweeney, Raymond Lauer, Lowell Harris, George Reynolds, Henry Ruhl and Charles Loper.

"I never let a man dictate to me before"

ORDINARILY Joe is what you'd call an "easy going sort." Not hard to please about most things. That's why I was kind of surprised when he said one day, "Mary, the bread you've been buying isn't so good. Let's change right away!"

"Is that an order?" I said, kind of laughing.

"Yes, that's an order." And I could tell from the way he said it that he was serious. He even reminded me about it as he was leaving for the shop. First time I ever remember Joe doing a thing like that.

Of course I didn't tell my friends that we had a "Dictator" in our house. But I did inquire around about what was considered good bread.

Seems like so many mentioned Omar Bread, that it sounded like the only logical choice. And it has certainly proved out that way.

Omar makes the most delightful toast and the tastiest sandwiches you can imagine. It's grand with dinner too.

Joe says, "Omar Bread is good eating anytime." And I agree with him. I think you would too if you'd try it. And remember: I'm not "dictating." I'm just suggesting.

HY-SCORE BAKING METHOD GUARDS OMAR'S GOODNESS

CRUST. Golden-brown. Smooth and soft.
TEXTURE. Fully-developed cell structure. Cake-like appearance.
FLAVOR. Fresh, wholesome, wheaty aroma and a delightful taste that everyone enjoys.
FOOD VALUE. 99% digestible. An unexcelled source of lasting energy.
VITAMINS AND MINERALS. Enriched with Vitamin B_1, Niacin and Iron in food form for nerve health, good digestion and good blood.
FRESHNESS. Out-of-the-Oven freshness that brings out the best in good bread.

How does the bread you are now using compare with Omar on these important qualities?

STATE OFFICERS AT TEMPLAR INSPECTION

Masonic Temple Scene of Annual Event.

J. Wallace Cherry of Columbus, past grand commander of the Grand Commandery Knights Templar of Ohio, was in charge of official inspection and the conferring of the Order of the Temple.

Following the inspection, officers and guests were entertained at a banquet in the Masonic Temple dining room. Sir Knight Cherry complimented the commandery on the excellent manner in which the order was conferred and the fine record the commandery has made during the past year. They said they were of the opinion that when the year ends Mt. Vernon Commandery will have one of the finest records for the year of any commandery in the state.

At 6:30 p. m. a dinner was served by the wives of the officers to approximately 100 members.

Marion K. of C. Council Honors Men in Service

List of Members in War Dedicated at Public Ceremony; Past State Deputy Principal Speaker.

By EDNA S. DUTTON

Members of Marion Council, 676, Knights of Columbus, with the second [illegible] and dedication of the [illegible] honor roll by Rev. Father Albert J. Spieckerman, pastor of St. Mary Catholic church and Chaplain of the council. The speaker for the meeting, sponsored by the Order of Columbus, a past State deputy of the Knights of Columbus, Mass included a vocal solo by Paul Conroy, accompanied on the accordion by Marion Apple, and community singing. William [illegible], grand knight, presided and extended a welcome.

The roster of members serving in the war, which includes eight pairs of brothers, was read by Lloyd Conroy, financial secretary. The council, he stated, has joined the Prayer Front, praying for those in active service, and for peace. The members have pledged themselves to recite five decades of the Rosary each day for the duration of the war, praying for the welfare and safety, not only for members of the council, but for all men of the city and county who have been called to active service.

Communion Service Set

The council has asked all men of the parish to join them in receiving Holy Communion on the second Sunday of each month for these intentions. Mr. Conroy said. Also, he stated, once a month a high mass will be celebrated for these intentions, the first to be celebrated at 9 a. m. Sunday, and on Mother's Day, May 9, the council will join with the mothers of America in praying for the welfare of the country and the fighting sons. He also read the names of 160 men of the parish now in service.

Mr. O'Brien's talk on "The Way To Freedom" was a plea and a challenge to Americans to preserve their freedom through a keener interest and a better understanding of their governmental rights under the Constitution and the way of freedom as it is being interpreted today. He cited the pioneering of freedom in America and emphasized the important part that private business has always played in building the road of liberty.

"Of all the guideposts on our way to freedom in America," he stated, "I should place first in importance the strengthening of local self-government, with its control over local taxing power; every action on the part of the federal government which diminishes the importance and the responsibility of the states and local political units strikes at the very foundation of our way to freedom."

Examining Freedom Anew

Hitler, he said, may yet be hailed as the savior of the American republic, since his onslaught [illegible] to examine [illegible] and [illegible] our form of government. We are engaged in a war [illegible] to take the responsibility for their own economic welfare. In closing he asked, "How much are we willing to do, what are we willing to give to preserve our way of life?"

St. Mary Pastor Speaks

After blessing the honor roll, Rev. Spieckerman gave a short talk. "We pray for those on this honor roll, the honor roll of our parish and the honor rolls of all churches, that Almighty God may grant to them a glorious victory and a victorious peace," he said. "The soul of a country is its citizens, and our watchwords should be duty, honor and country." He gave as a paramount duty the winning of the war and then peace afterward and "so that our hope of liberty is under God—if we do not achieve this liberty under God, then we will have achieved peace dishonorably. Our watchword should be 'country.' Let us remember that it is only a spiritual America that can win a justifiable peace with liberty under God."

Mr. Conroy sang "Without a Song," and directed the assembly in singing "Our Lady of Victory" and "God Bless America." Completing the program was the showing of war pictures by Eddie Orcutt.

Robert A. Axe presented Mr. O'Brien. Decorations in the hall were American Flags and the council emblem. The honor roll stood on a table and at either side was a lighted candle. In front of the table was a large bouquet of gladioli.

On Honor Roll

The following names, which have been placed on the honor roll, were read:

Richard Truka, Robert Truka, Carl Werley Jr. and Joseph Werley who are in the armed forces and William McAndrew and Maurice Town, who are in foreign [illegible] service.

STILL THINKS LION'S "CUTE"

By The United Press

LOS ANGELES, CALIF.—Miss Lucille Clayton, 19-year-old Texan, boasts of an absolute fearlessness in regard to animals. She lifted a protecting screen in a downtown show and began caressing Leo a 200-pound, seven-month-old African lion. Leo liked the prettiness of Miss Clayton's arm and to show his appreciation began chewing it. The owner of Leo thrust his arm into the cage and choked the lion till he quit chewing. "I still think he was cute," said Miss Clayton as a surgeon dressed her multiple wounds on both arms, "and I think he enjoyed being petted."

JAPS CLAIM HEAVY TOLL OF U. S. SHIPS

By The Associated Press

Imperial Tokyo headquarters asserted today strong Japanese naval and air forces sank or damaged 15 warships and transports and shot down 37 planes Wednesday in an attack on an allied fleet 25 miles north of Guadalcanal island in the Solomons.

Only six Japanese planes which "crash-dived into enemy objectives" were lost, the Tokyo communique said.

The Japanese claim sharply conflicted with a U. S. navy communique yesterday, referring to the same action, which said American fighters shot down 37 of 92 Japanese planes when the enemy attacked shipping near Guadalcanal.

The navy listed seven U. S. planes lost, and made no mention of damage to allied shipping nor of Japanese warships in action.

Tokyo's version declared a cruiser, a destroyer and 10 transports were sunk and three other transports damaged.

On other Far Pacific fronts:

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced allied fliers blasted a flotilla of enemy barges in an hour-long attack off Dutch New Guinea and strafed other Japanese coastal vessels near the Aroe islands.

Fires were started on three barges and an escort boat, and other barges were severely damaged. Allied airmen also raided Japanese airdromes and bases.

On the Burma front, British headquarters reported "no change" in the battle along the bay of Bengal coast, where the Japanese are attacking Field Marshal Sir Archibald P. Wavell's forces not far from the frontier.

In the skies, American heavy bombers dropped 13 tons of high explosives on the Japanese headquarters at Toungoo, setting fires visible for 20 miles, and U. S. fighter planes destroyed an enemy supply dump at Ningam in central Burma.

Evangelistic Services at Salvation Army

At the Salvation Citadel last night, another of the series of evangelistic service being conducted by Major and Mrs. W. Hinshaw from Winchester Ind., was held. Mrs. Hinshaw spoke on the words of Jeramiah "My people have committed two evils. They have forsaken the Lord their God and have hewn to themselves broken cisterns saith the Lord." The experience of God's ancient people, she declared, is very largely repeated within the church of today. Three outstanding things characterized the people then that largely affect the people of today she said: idolatory, intermarrying and the doctrine of Balam or bradiances. It is apparent that crowds of people within the church group put things that are sensual and material before the true God she said. The speaker pleaded for a return to love and worship of the true God so that the church shall regain its lost influence and power. Evangelist Marvin Lewis was present and furnished music.

Services will continue each evening and on Sunday there will be Sunday school at 9:30, Holiness [illegible] at 10:45 and salvation meeting at 7:30.

Proposals To Cut Voting Age to 18 Gain Support

By GEORGE GALLUP
American Institute of Public Opinion.

PRINCETON, N. J., April 9—A proposal gradually taking on importance under the stress of war is the movement to lower the voting age to 18.

Several states, acting largely on the theory that if men are old enough at 18 they old enough to vote, have introduced measures to their state constitutions to lower the voting age. One has already passed such a measure, although final action will depend on ratification by the people at the polls in November.

Throughout the country public opinion is, on the whole, slow to accept basic changes in the political system, and the majority of voters take a conservative attitude when it is proposed to break with tradition by lowering the voting age. When the Institute, through a nation-wide staff of field reporters, questioned people on the subject, it found that the weight of opinion was against the 18-year voting age.

Gaining Support

However the idea has more support from the public now than it did a few months ago, and considerably more than it had in the period just before the war. On this issue, as on so many others, the war has begun to change people's thinking.

The Institute's sounding of public opinion on the lower voting age was conducted on the following question:

"At present, American citizens cannot vote until they become 21 years of age. Would you favor changing the law to allow men and women 18, 19 and 20 years old to vote?"

Two earlier surveys were conducted on the same issue, and the trend is as follows:

	Favor Lower Age	Opposed	Undecided
June, 1939	17%	79%	4%
Jan., 1943	39	52	9
Today	42	52	6

A lower voting age would have political implications which are not generally realized. During the years of the New Deal the youth of the country has been predominately Democratic in its political leanings. This has been particularly true of the very young—the "first voters"—but it also applies to people up to 30. In the election last November, 54 per cent of voters aged 21-29 were Democratic, whereas the proportion was only 50 per cent in the age group 30-49 and 44 per cent above 50 years.

Political Effect

Hence, unless there is a radical change in the attitude of youth, the Democrats have much more to gain by a lowering of the voting age than the Republicans. Such a step would bring into the electorate more potential supporters for Roosevelt than for the G.O.P.

Once this fact is realized, it is likely that Democratic leaders will champion the lower voting age with much more enthusiasm than republican leaders.

The general public's appraisal of the issue is, of course, not based on partisan considerations. There is no important difference in attitude among the rank and file of Republican voters and Democratic voters.

Those in favor of the lower age stress their belief that since the young people of the country have to shoulder much of the burden of fighting the war, they should have a voice in electing candidates to office.

American and British Sergeants Unite Armies

WITH U. S. FORCES IN SOUTHERN TUNISIA, April 7—(Delayed)—"Hello, You Limey!"

That was the affectionate hail given by Sergt. Jospeh A. Randall of State Center, Ia., to Sergt. A. W. Acland of Maida Vale, London, as reconnaissance patrols of the British Eighth army and armored forces of the Second U. S. Army corps met in a historic juncture on the hard-surfaced road amid desert wastes 42 miles from Gabes today.

"Very glad to see you," answered Aclan, with typical British restraint.

These two enlisted men—the helmeted, grinning American and the freckled, red-haired Briton with blue beret, stepped forward and shook hands for the first formal contact uniting British forces which had pursued Field Marshal Erwin Rommel 1,500 miles and the Americans who slapped the Germans back 140 miles from Kasserine pass in six weeks.

STIMSON DENIES BAN AIMED AT MacARTHUR

Order Against Politics Not New, He Says.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 9—Secretary of War Stimson said yesterday "with great explicitness" that Army regulations banning political activity by soldiers were not aimed at Gen. Douglas MacArthur or any other individual.

The secretary told a press conference the regulations made public earlier this week embodied war department policy adopted as long ago as 1925 and represented in his opinion an essential safeguard for maintenance of the traditional American policy that no individual should exercise both civil and military authority at one time.

The latest regulation, dated Feb. 25, 1943, prohibits anyone in the Army from participating actively in a political campaign, forbids soldiers to seek or accept election in a political campaign, forbids them when they entered active military service, or to accept re-election without prior approval of the war department. Such approval would be granted—with an honorable discharge from the Army—only in cases of "material hardship."

MacArthur has publicly disavowed all "political ambitions whatsoever."

Asked specifically about public references to the possibility that the regulation was adopted with a view to stopping any presidential boom for MacArthur, Stimson replied:

"I can tell you with great explicitness that I did not have General MacArthur in mind at all, or any other individual."

Lifelong Sweetheart Given $1,000 Bequest

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, April 9 — A $1,000 bequest to his boyhood sweetheart was made in the 58-year-old will of William H. Balls, 61, bachelor school teacher, who died last February.

The will referred to Miss Minnie Frances Biggins, 62, also a teacher, as "my sweetheart and companion, who has proven faithful of me for so many years."

Miss Biggins devoted her life to caring for her widowed mother.

RIGHT NOW, IT'S A DANGEROUS
WEAPON

Today's "START-UPS" can put as much as 200 miles of wear on your motor... in one minute*

AVOID UNNECESSARY "START-UP DAMAGE" BY USING V.E.P. ALLOYED-OIL
WHEN YOU FIGHT WEAR ... YOU FIGHT FOR AMERICA!

NOW THAT YOUR CAR stands idle longer, ordinary oil has more time than ever to drain down from or dry off of cylinder walls and pistons . . . leaving them without effective lubrication when you start up. During the time it takes the oil to get back on the job, real damage can be done.

V.E.P. STAYS ON THE JOB! This entirely new, entirely different alloyed oil has a "magnetic-like" action which makes it cling to cylinder and piston walls—not only overnight but for weeks at a time. You have effective lubrication before you turn the ignition key.

FEEL THE PROOF! Make this simple demonstration at your Marathon dealer's. Feel the walls of inverted can of V.E.P. and ordinary oil, both drained at the same time. Notice—the can of ordinary oil is "dry;" the V.E.P. can is still oily.

V.E.P. IS THE NEW, DIFFERENT ALLOYED OIL THAT MAKES YOUR MOTOR LAST 50% LONGER THAN IT WOULD WITH ORDINARY OIL

DON'T LET START-UPS put unnecessary wear on your motor. You can't afford it. America can't afford it. For repair parts are scarce—mechanics are scarcer. Protect your motor . . . help keep your car in service . . . by using V.E.P. Alloyed-Oil.

It's the entirely new, different oil which not only guards your motor against "Start-Up" damage, but also rids your motor of harmful sludge, carbon, varnish . . . protects bearings against corrosion. And those are greater threats than ever under war time driving conditions. For with today's slower speeds, shorter trips, your motor seldom gets hot enough to boil off the moisture formed by combustion of gasoline—leaving much more sludge-forming water to contaminate your motor oil.

The cost of this extra protection? The cost of two newspapers per week. So why delay? Switch to V.E.P. Alloyed-Oil, today.

DON'T LET WINTER-WORN LUBRICANTS SABOTAGE YOUR CAR
Come in. Let us drain out winter-thinned oil and grease . . . flush your radiator . . . check your tires, battery, spark plugs . . . give your car a complete Plus-7 lubrication job and FREE Marathon Tell-Tale Check-Up. Start Spring with your car on a WAR BASIS

*According to expert opinion, there can be as much wear in one minute—on a motor starting up with "dry" piston and cylinder walls as there would be in up to 200 miles of normal "warmed-up" driving.

Praised in Blackout Test

pletely darkened for civilian defense purposes, and officials today said they were well pleased by the results.

Walter C. Gust, county civilian defense director, and Neil Ahlfeld, director in Kenton, said they felt the public response was good, and that the few complaints that developed were not due to any willful disobedience to instructions.

Ahlfeld, anxious to test the alertness of his air raid wardens, took a tour around Kenton with his automobile lights burning in an otherwise darkened community. He was stopped 18 times and told to turn off the lights.

Auxiliary officers in rural areas reported their quick trips along highways found all homes in darkness, and that they were pleased with the response.

In Kenton, the community blacked out completely except for a few homes where a light had been left burning while the people were away from home. These persons will be notified by letter to arrange with their air raid wardens for some means of turning off lights when they they plan to be away. No prosecutions are contemplated.

A few civilian defense workers who lighted cigarets in the open were cautioned to be more careful.

Plant whistles, fire trucks, police car and ambulance sirens were used to signal the blackout.

It was estimated 300 civilian defense unit members and some 75 pieces of equipment such as autos for officials, ambulances and wreck cars, were used in the mobilization.

Galion Blackout Nearly Complete

Special to The Star

GALION, April 9—"Very nearly complete" was the comment today of Merritt McElroy, director for the civilian defense blackout here last night with but four violations listed as serious and a few minor violations reported by air-raid wardens. No arrests and no casualties were listed by police this morning. The half-hour test was part of an area-wide blackout. Starting at 9:25 p. m., it lasted until 9:55.

One place of business and a business-residence building were the scenes of the only violations. In two places lights had been left on unattended. Other violations included burning of radio dial lights.

Although factories were not asked to comply, two concerns, one a defense plant which was working at the time, blacked out. Two bonfires were put out by air raid wardens.

Approximately 225 persons of the civilian defense staff, medical service, air raid wardens, auxiliary police and control center workers were mobilized. Thirty-three women and five doctors comprising the medical unit were on duty at the hospital, city building and schools.

During the minutes that traffic lights were shut off, all of the down-town section was darkened with the exception of one bank, where the lights showed plainly onto the street outside.

With traffic at a standstill, the silence was broken only by the roar of a motorcycle when a messenger speeded through the down-town business section.

Motorists Trouble Wyandot Co. Officials

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., April 9 — Upper Sandusky and Wyandot county civilian defense workers turned out almost 100 per cent last night and reported that public response to the blackout test was satisfactory. They said few violations were reported, and that when they were pointed out, they were quickly corrected.

Walter M. Swoverland, director for Upper Sandusky, said he was pleased by the public willingness to cooperate, and a similar comment came from William Hunter, in charge of the rural area, who said the chief complaints from his workers were that some motorists refused to halt their cars during the blackout. Their license numbers were taken for possible reprimands, officials pointing out that such violations are punishable.

There were 72 air raid wardens and some 300 other civilian defense workers active in Upper Sandusky. In the rural area, 52 auxiliary police were on the job, and at Carey 34 auxiliary police covered the area. They also reported some difficulty with through traffic.

George T. Denman, in charge of the industrial area here, said factories blacked out all lights excepting those directly above work benches.

Crestline Blackout Called Satisfactory

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, O., April 9 — Profiting by lessons learned in a previous blackout in which some difficulty was encountered, Crestline last night staged its part of the 21-county blackout in such a way that officials praised the community for its cooperation.

There were a few stray lights, but most of them were turned off before the blackout ended. One offender was a business place, and no one could be reached to have the lights there turned out.

Officials reported some difficulty with through traffic.

State Patrol, Auxiliary Assist with Blackout

Patrolmen Vern Herbert and James Gibbs of the Marion sub station of the state highway patrol and several local auxiliary patrolmen assisted in conducting traffic during the blackout. They were stationed at various affected county lines to stop traffic going into the blackout area.

NAZI-RED FRONT GENERALLY QUIET

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, April 9—The Russian-German front was generally quiet today but along some sectors there were sharp thrusts by both sides.

South of Balakleya, which is midway between Chuguev and Izyum on the Donets river, the Germans again during the night attempted to assault Red army positions but lost 200 killed and gained no ground.

This sector includes an area where the Soviet troops have a bridgehead on the Donets, and the attacks by the Nazis likely were designed at trying to smash through the clear up the western bank, but all their efforts have failed.

FOOD PRICES

control would extend to clothing, he remarked there is no present need of clothing and then, amid a burst of laughter, amended his statement to say there was no need of putting a ceiling on clothing.

Under the plan the OPA is working on, Byrnes related, it will be possible for the purchaser to see the ceiling price in the store on the article he wants to buy and the prices will appear in advertising. The housewives, he said, will have to do the police work.

It is up to Food Administrator Chester C. Davis, Byrnes said, to determine whether all fresh vegetables affect the cost of living and so will be brought under price ceilings. Some minor vegetable might be omitted, he remarked.

It is also for the food administrator to determine whether grade labeling of canned goods will be involved, based on a decision whether this would affect prices to consumers.

Byrnes said the food prices would be applied at the retail level rather than at the farm, unless some law requiring fair margins makes it necessary to fix prices back of the retail level. That might be done in the case of livestock and some processed foods, he indicated.

RAF POUNDS RUHR INDUSTRIAL PLANTS

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 9—The RAF, resuming the allied aerial offensive against western Europe after a lapse of three nights, attacked targets in the industrial Ruhr valley last night in a raid from which 21 bombers failed to return, the air ministry announced today.

The attack, in which some of Britain's biggest bombers participated, was described officially as "heavy," but the weather over Germany was bad and it was difficult to observe full results, a communique said.

Specific targets in the Ruhr were not disclosed.

The Ruhr was last bombed the night of April 3 when a great fleet of four-engined British warplanes unloaded a 900-ton cargo of explosives on Essen, home of the giant Krupp armament works. Twenty-one bombers also were lost in that assault.

Three Traffic Arrests Made in Marion Area

Three traffic arrests were made yesterday and this morning by city police and the state highway patrol. James H. Worley of Cleveland was arrested Thursday afternoon on Route 4 in Union county by the highway patrol on a charge of failure to obtain a 1943 license for his car. He was fined $10 and costs in a Marysville court.

Eugene Allen Yazel, 18, of 305 Carner avenue was arrested by city police at 1:40 a. m. today on South State street on a charge of failure to register a motor vehicle. He was fined $10 and costs in municipal court this morning.

William Cavey, 37, of near Morral was arrested by city police at 5:42 this morning on South Main street on a charge of failure to register a motor vehicle. He posted $25 bond to appear in municipal court at 10 a. m. today.

Sec. Morgenthau Lauds Press for Support of Drive

By HENRY MORGENTHAU JR.
Secretary of the Treasury
(Written for The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 9 — The financial demands of this war have stretched to every corner of the country the need for lending fighting dollars to the government.

Even with history-making numbers already holding a stake in the nation's future, new millions will have to be added to the lists of shareholders in America during the $13,000,000,000 second war loan drive which the treasury will launch next week.

Thousands of volunteer workers from every group in our national life will be collaborating with their government in the campaign to sell securities to their friends, neighbors and business associates. Busy as they will be in this important task concentrated into a brief period, they will find their work simplified tremendously by the splendid contributions that have been made and will be made by the industries that provide our public with information and advertising.

Naturally, one of the great jobs in this field is that contemplated by the newspapers of America. The press—daily and weekly, urban and rural—has long been of importance in the treasury's financing programs. With the development of the war savings campaign, the publishers and editors and reporters and artists and carrier boys have joined in with a superb will to tell the story of the war bonds and stamps and to sell them as well.

Last month I invited to the treasury leaders of the newspaper industry who were asked for suggestions in the conduct of the second war loan drive. I was delighted by the spontaneity with which they recognized our problems and offered even further cooperation. As a result, they organized themselves into an allied newspaper council to work shoulder to shoulder with us in this gigantic undertaking. In addition to the constant advisory aid of the members of the council, they have made available to us the full-time services of several of their most talented colleagues.

So painstakingly are the preparations for participation by this group that I know that no individual who reads their publications will be unaware of the purposes of our campaign or of the securities that are being offered.

On behalf of the treasury, I am happy to make public acknowledgement of the valuable support being provided to us by the nation's press.

Newspapers Ready for War Bond Drive

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 9—Frank E. Tripp, chairman of the Allied Newspaper Council, today asserted that America's newspapermen — remembering that their own heritage "was bought with sweat blood and tears"—are marshalled on the home front lines, ready "to help their government borrow 13 billion fighting dollars from Americans from every station of life."

"They await the zero hour on April 12 to strike a blow for their own preservation as well as the preservation of all human rights," Tripp said in outlining plans for press participation in the treasury's second war loan campaign slated to start Monday.

Through millions of lines of editorial and advertising space, the papers "will spill forth the messages of the second war loan appeal with the force and roar of Niagara," he said.

Tripp recalled that once the American press went through the underground battle now being waged in Europe, with "our presses smashed and our editors murdered because newspapers dared to fight for the truth," and said newspapermen in this war are living up to free press traditions—"they are dying on the battlefield and on the seas."

LONG ILLNESS FATAL TO MRS. W. H. CLUNK

Passes Away in University Hospital, Columbus.

Mrs. Catherine Mae Clunk, 80, wife of W. H. Clunk of near Radnor, died in University hospital, Columbus, at 6 p. m. yesterday after an illness of eight years. She had been in the hospital five days.

A native of Union county, she was born Dec. 9, 1862, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown. In 1887 she married W. H. Clunk. They have made their home in Marion county 55 years.

Surviving besides the husband are eight children, Mrs. Velma Trihall of near Larkin, Mrs. Mary Hackett of Mansfield, Mrs. Blanche McInnes of Ridgewood, N. J., Staff Sgt. Harold Clunk of the Alliance Air base in Nebraska, and Grace, William, Hazel and James at home, two sisters, Mrs. John Ramsey and Miss Ellen Gilson of Jackson county, and a brother, William Brown of Blanchester, O.

Friends may call at the Boyd & Uncapher funeral home on West Columbia street after 7 tonight.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 3:30 p. m. slow time in the Boyd & Uncapher funeral home by Rev. George W. Herd of the Methodist church at Wapakoneta. Burial will be in the Waldo cemetery.

Cook Goes on Trial for Lower 13 Murder

By The Associated Press

ALBANY, Ore., April 9—Robert E. Lee Folkes, the state contended today, carefully plotted entrance into the sleeping car berth of a Navy officer's young bride, then slashed her throat when, awakened from deep sleep, she resisted him.

This first disclosure of the prosecutor's theory of the slaying of Mrs. Martha Virginia James, 21, Norfolk, Va., came in its opening statement at Folkes' trial. The 20-year-old Negro dining car cook is charged with Mrs. James' murder in a lower berth 12 of a California-bound passenger train early last Jan. 23.

So closely had the state guarded its version of the case that, immediately it was revealed yesterday, Defense Attorney Leroy Lomax, Portland, moved for a recess.

"This is the first I've heard of the state's theory," he told the court. "I now desire to consult at length with Folkes before opening the defense."

Lomax was granted a recess until today.

ROMMEL

ing pinned against the coast and cut off.

The new junction of Eighth Army and American troops was expected to take place somewhere between Mezzouna and Graiba. The Americans who joined the British on the Gafsa-Gabes road farther south earlier were reported mopping up isolated pockets of resistance in the El Guetar area.

In the north, crack tank and infantry units of Lieut. Gen. K. A. N. Anderson's British First Army, after driving to within 27 airmiles of Tunis, were reported battering at enemy strong-points in the Kedjez-El-Bab sector where the German salient is gradually being driven back.

All southern Tunisia was either in allied hands or falling rapidly from the enemy's grasp, and the central portion of the east coast with its fertile plain, bounded by mountains on the west and north and by the sea on the east, became the immediate objective of hard-driving allied columns.

Natural Defenses Gone

Save for the British and French forces in the extreme north, the entire allied military machine in Tunisia seemed to be on the move. Observers pointed out that if pressure is maintained Rommel has no naturally strong defense line until he reaches the mountains north of Sousse and joins the forces of Col. Gen. Jurgen Von Arnim in the Bizerte-Tunis bridgehead.

(The Paris radio, commenting on the Tunisian battle today, said "informed Berlin circles expect a big naval battle in the Mediterranean." The broadcast, recorded by The Associated Press, said "there are indications that the British fleet is approaching the Tunisian coast in battle force. In that case it will have to reckon with the powerful Italian fleet.")

Aided by good weather and the withdrawal of the enemy into more confined territory, allied air forces asserted their crushing superiority in a continuing offensive against retreating axis troops and transport, the limited enemy air bases and the vulnerable shipping lines from Africa to Europe.

Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle's bombers, in a week, hit 63 enemy ships in the dangerous waters of the Mediterranean. Nine of the vessels sank immediately.

REUNION IN AFRICA

KENTON, April 9—Pvt. Eddie Mullins, reported once as "missing in action" by the U. S. war department, wrote home recently that he had met his first fellow-Kentonian since he arrived in North Africa several months ago. He was hailed from a passing vehicle in a town "somewhere in North Africa" and stopped to enjoy an old-fashioned reunion with Pvt. Lavern Aurand, son of Jay Aurand, also of this city.

General Gives Tip To Fate Awaiting Rommel in Africa

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

America's General Eisenhower, commander-in-chief in Tunisia, would seem to have given us a fair lead as to how to answer a question which is hot in both allied and axis camps, that is, whether Marshal Rommel is likely to be able to get any considerable number of his troops out of Africa and safely to the continent by transport—and the Nazi general's chances don't look good.

General Eisenhower, in a message of congratulations to his deputy, Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, said the Army, Navy and airforce "are now in a position to exact the full price from the enemy confronting us in Africa." Exaction of the "full price" strikes me as meaning one of two things—annihilation or surrender.

There's no place under those terms for escape.

As a matter of fact the indications are the allied trap is so well set the great body of axis troops is doomed. This, of course, doesn't preclude the escape of some officers and men, especially by air transport.

Fighting Not Over

Right here it will be well for us to recognize, as General Eisenhower points out, "that great difficulties and bitter fighting still lie ahead." We may be a long way from the moment when Rommel's men will face annihilation, surrender or attempt at withdrawal.

If Rommel can join up with Nazi General Von Arnim in the strong positions about Tunis and Bizerte, in the northern tip of Tunisia, it may take a lot of power to blast them. Still, the allies do have the power and will make it effective in due course.

Reports from many quarters in Europe make it clear the axis has been making preparations for an effort to evacuate Rommel's forces. As long ago as mid-March a foreign diplomatic source in London said reliable reports from Italy said hundreds of small craft were being assembled in Sicily and southern Italy, apparently in preparation for a Tunisian emulation of Dunkerque. Later there were similar reports from other points, and on April 1 the London Daily Mail had a dispatch from Madrid saying 350,000 tons of French shipping and been ordered sent to Genoa, Spezia and ports in Sardinia and Sicily.

Coincidentally, 100 American Flying Fortresses on April 1 attacked the great axis supply base at Cagliari, Sardinia, and among other things hit five merchant ships and 21 smaller craft. The base was crippled by the terrific bombing. The chances are that these ships were for evacuation purposes.

Three Ships Sunk

About the same time American bombers attacked an axis convoy in the Sicilian narrows. They sank at least three large merchant ships and left others burning furiously.

Similar disaster has overtaken other axis vessels so the evacuation fleet must have been badly depleted. Moreover, what has happened already gives a fair forecast of the hell any evacuation force will run into if an attempt is made to take any large number of troops out of Tunisia.

It's only about a hundred miles from Tunis to Sicily, and a bit more from Bizerte to Cagliari, Sardinia. But it might as well be a million miles, for axis troops attempting to flee will be beset by allied land, air and naval forces which will be swarming the North Tunisian zone.

General Eisenhower must be praying the axis does try evacuation, for it will produce a catastrophe for the enemy. Of course, we shouldn't overlook the possibility Hitler may try one of his colossal gambles by sending a big air fleet and a section of the Italian navy into action. He would be taking a terribly long chance in doing that, however.

CONGRESS

cialis of Brown within the OPA. They predicted "businessmen" would replace "professors" in several key policy-making posts, and said Brown was only waiting for a formal report—due in 10 days or two weeks—from a special committee he created to study the organization before he took action.

The war department ban against army men seeking or accepting public office stirred fresh debate with Senator Barkley, minority leader, denying that it was designed to insure a fourth term for Mr. Roosevelt.

He also termed as the 'quintessence of stupidity and quadruple asininity" charges that it was aimed at preventing Gen. Douglas MacArthur from accepting a possible presidential nomination.

("Let's get on with the war," was General MacArthur's only comment upon being asked for a statement regarding the new regulation.)

Barkley spoke after Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) had expressed especial shock at the bar against Army men "accepting" election to an office, and after Secretary of War Stimson denied he had MacArthur or any other individual in mind when he issued the order.

Meanwhile, undeterred by Barkley's criticism of absenteeism in congress, members of two rival senate committees, the military and war investigating groups—continued to maneuver to send a dual delegation to the fighting front in North Africa. Both committees claimed military or presidential approval.

Commander McManes On Marion and Galion Visit

Commander [illegible] McManes, assistant naval attache to Ambassador Davies of Belgium at the Court of St. James, London, England, visited friends here Wednesday. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Frances McManes of Lima. Both are former residents of Marion and Galion. Commander McManes was born in Galion and came here with his family in 1912.

He left London where he has been stationed for the last two years, March 12, for a visit with his wife and sons at Annapolis, Md. Among those Commander McManes and his sister visited here were Mr. and Mrs. Knute Nordquist of Thew avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Place of Otis avenue. In Galion they were guests of the home of their aunt, Mrs. Arthur T. Flannery, Joseph B. McManes and Miss Albert G. Flannery of Galion are uncle and aunt of Commander McManes and Miss McManes.

RULES

as may be deemed appropriate and may not have heretofore been made to compensate, in accordance with the little steel formula

• • • for the rise in the cost of living between Jan. 1, 1942, and May 1, 1942 (15 per cent)."

The President also authorized some raises on a merit, promotion, incentive, reclassification and similar basis "provided that such adjustments do not increase the level of production costs appreciably or furnish the basis either to increase prices or to resist otherwise justifiable reduction in prices."

One of the sidelights of the order is apt to be the attitude of utility-regulating agencies toward the President's advice. In effect, officials said, the President was asking the historically independent interstate commerce commission to grant OPA's recent request for cancellation of last year's 10 per cent railroad freight and passenger rate increase. Local agencies governing local electric, gas and other utility rates were included in the President's admonition to hold or cut rates.

The President's action on wages followed a statement earlier in the day by Chairman Smith, Democrat of South Carolina, of the senate agricultural committee, who had fought for the Bankhead bill, that "now we'll wait and see if the President gets as tough with labor as he is with agriculture."

The President specified a $10,000,000,000 program of additional taxes and savings in his January budget message to congress but may have upped the ante since then.

The Chief Executive said it was up to congressional committees to formulate the financial aspects of the anti-inflation program but the executive department is prepared to make recommendations, if asked.

One of these recommendations was believed almost certainly in administration quarters to call for some form of compulsory purchase of war bonds, probably through mandatory deductions from pay envelopes.

HOG PRICES

complained that it was becoming impossible to buy pigs at uncontrolled prices, kill and process the carcasses and sell the meat at the prices OPA prescribed. They contend that the price control act passed by congress last fall required OPA to assure reasonable margins for packers.

In opposition, livestock producers have protested that any ceilings on live animals would curtail production, and apparently the "support prices" which officials said Davis was prepared to announce were designed to satisfy the producers.

What subsequent action on farm prices might be taken under the President's order remained problematical, but authoritative sources named cotton and apples as likely subjects of control along with hogs.

The same sources cautioned against any assumption that a hog ceiling necessarily would be followed, at least immediately, with similar action on cattle.

No Definite Statement

Early today, the only official statement on the President's order was a brief comment from Brown that he thought it "implements the price control act of congress and OPA policy."

Brown said he could not, at the moment, comment on what specific action might be taken.

Another source added that Brown felt that with congressional passage of the Oct. 2 price control act OPA ought to accept the price standards of that legislation as a permanent policy, and devote itself to putting those standards into effect rather than arguing about specific policies in connection with farm prices.

AVOIDS COAL DISPUTE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 9—The war labor board declined today to take immediate jurisdiction of the southern soft coal wage dispute by referring to Secretary Perkins a telegram from the southern operators requesting intervention. The effect of the board's action, at least for the present, was to leave to Miss Perkins the question of whether the dispute is to be certified to the board.

MANPOWER PROBLEM HITS INSTITUTIONS

Hospitals and Prisons Suffer, Sherwood Reports.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 9—Lack of maintenance manpower is acute at Ohio's 12 welfare institutions, Charles L. Sherwood, welfare director, said today.

He disclosed that 327 vacancies existed April 1. Normally, the institutions employ some 4,000 persons.

The most serious problems exist in the 10 hospitals for the mentally ill, feebleminded and epileptic. Vacancies in these establishments totaled 212.

Ohio lacks 350 institutional attendants but there also is urgent need for doctors, nurses and engineering staff members, Sherwood added. There are 68 vacancies at the state's four penal institutions. Because of the acute help shortage, a dormitory at one prison was closed and its occupants now share cells with fellow inmates.

The Massillon state hospital had 87 vacancies; others included Athens state hospital 76, Lima state hospital for the criminally insane 43, London prison farm 10, reformatory for men, Mansfield, 45, reformatory for women, Marysville, 10, boys' industrial school, Lancaster, 18, and girls' industrial school, Delaware, 11.

MacArthur Bitter On Anniversary of Bataan

By The United Press

GEN. MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Friday, April 9—Gen. Douglas MacArthur commemorated the anniversary of the fall of Bataan today in a statement which revealed his bitterness over successive disappointments and his unswerving hope that he may lead a conquering army back to the lost Philippines.

He said that at Bataan the American flag had been spat upon, that American and Filipino men and women were in prisons and that 16,000,000 Filipino people who had trusted their fate to America were enslaved.

"I was the leader of that lost cause," MacArthur said, "and from the bottom of my stricken heart I pray that a merciful God may not delay too long their redemption, that the day of salvation be not so far removed that they perish, that it be not again too late."

4-H Clubs Plan War Projects

Food Production and Conservation To Be Principal Theme of 1943 Program in Marion Co.

Activities of Marion 4-H clubs this year will center on projects of special value in the war effort.

Agriculture clubs are selecting projects in the production of livestock and crops that will increase food production needed in the war effort and home economics clubs are choosing projects to preserve food products and to conserve clothing and equipment. The work is under the direction of A. W. Smith, county farm agent, and Mrs. Christine Cook, county demonstration agent, and club leaders.

Both boys and girls are taking part in food production projects with particular stress on vegetable gardens. Some clubs are requiring that boys and girls in towns at least carry a garden project even though they plan to carry another project. Other projects in home economics on which girls will be working will be preparation of various food products or the responsibility of entire meal preparation, clothing construction projects for all ages, a home furnishings project, The 4-H Girl Conserves on the Home Front" and a kitchen management project. The majority of the boys will be carrying projects on hog production and cattle production.

In order to stimulate all possible activity in connection with the war program "Victory Certificates" will be awarded all 4-H boys and girls in Ohio who earn as many points as their years of age as of June 1, 1943. Points will be given on acceptable projects and will vary, depending on the grade received. Those making an A grade will receive eight points if they have carried a useful wartime project. In addition to this each boy or girl will be given one point credit for each 50 hours' labor on any farm or in the home. Other points may be given on health activities, such as taking first aid or home nursing courses and on services activities such as assisting in a salvage program, purchasing war bonds, or assisting with Civilian Defense activities.

In addition to the Victory certificate each member will get the usual 4-H certificate upon the satisfactory completion of a project. Former 4-H club members and advisors are showing their willingness to help by calling their clubs together and making plans for the coming year.

One of the first activities planned by some clubs is to enroll new members. After new members have been enrolled officers are elected and a program is planned for the year. Club meetings usually consist of a work period on the project, some entertainment features and a recreation period. The responsibility for the three parts of each meeting rests with the committees appointed by the president. Each club is responsible for planning its years program to fit the needs of the individual community.

It takes more than planning however for a good 4-H club program in a community, the county agents point out. It takes the cooperation of the members, advisors, parents and other people in the community. Any boy or girl in Marion county over 10 years of age and under 21 may participate. If not already enrolled in a 4-H club or if there is no club in the immediate community those who wish to become members may write or phone the Marion county extension office in the post office building.

Harding High School Football Squad Works Hard on Plays for Alumni Game April 19

Team Gets Down to Real Business After Two Weeks of Conditioning Under Eyes of Dorris and Petrich.

After two weeks of conditioning as the Harding High school football team the past week worked on play assignments to get them prepared for the annual Alumni game April 19.

Coaches Vic Dorris and Joe Petrich put the 70 squad members through play movements in slow motion then developed the plays to perfection at medium speed, and ordered them off with full-date out-for-blood action. However before the plays were gone over every day this week the team practiced the all-important football fundamentals after the usual calesthenics and lap around the field.

Even before the two coaches make their appearance on the Harding practice field, the whole squad is busy brushing up on tackling, blocking, footwork, and timing. Even the inexperienced freshmen show determination and initiative in their fundamental drill. This fiery brand of play won a second team berth for one of the freshies in spring practice. He is Baker, stocky little lineman from Vernon Heights Junior High school.

Plenty of Spirit

The sophomore and junior gridders show just as much grit as if they were first-year men, wanting like anything to get a spot on the varsity. Charles Fazio, junior tackle and team captain, leads the juniors in basic practices before the coaches arrive while Don Kay helps Dorris with team practice in general. Dorris jokingly referred to Kay, who was an all-Ohio tackle for the Presidents last year, as a spy for the seniors, whom the 1943 squad will meet.

The mentors stress the routine exercise dog and crab walks as important in developing the blocking skill of the players. Both walks are done in the same position that an offensive blocker should be when taking an opponent out. The grueling gymnastics that the team goes through each day are equally important for developing the muscles necessary to carry a player through a 60-minute contest.

The first and second teams chosen for the spring drills furnish the material for one practice game with the new plays. These two squads alternate on offense and defense in order to acquaint them with the plays from all angles of the game. The rest of the boys split into two remaining teams and drill on the formations.

Backs Work Smoothly

In the so-called first team the quartet of backs functioned smoothly in running through their plays. Bud Young was used for [illegible]

Bucyrus Schedules Grid Games with Loudonville

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 9—Bucyrus High school gridders will go to Loudonville next Friday for a practice game with that school before concluding the spring football pactice. Loudonville will play a return practice game here the following week.

Daily workouts are revealing some promising talent among which is Danny Benham, sophomore, who recently completed his first first-string cage season. He has assured himself a place on the eleven in the left end position. Barton is also showing up favorable, Coach Nick Wasylik said. Barton is playing at left half, giving Rod Teets a run for the regular post.

CAGE TEAMS ELECT

KENTON, April 9—Claud Stober has been elected honorary captain of the Kenton High school "Wildcat" basketball team for the past season, and the Ada High school "Bulldogs" similarly honored Lee Thessel, star guard, this week.

HARPSTER DEFEATS KENTON

KENTON, April 9—The Kenton High school track team, with only one letterman back from last year this week lost its first dual meet at Harpster, 75 4/5 to 24 1/5, and Coach Harland Kinney said intensive practices are in order for his proteges, most of whom are freshmen and sophomores. Marseilles tinclads come to Kenton next Tuesday.

SPORTS THE MARION STAR

HORACE STONEHAM, center, of the New York Giant baseball club, his daughter, Valerie, left, and Jeanne Moloy, a friend of Miss Stoneham, watch the squad in a spring workout. The Giants, conforming to the "stay-at-home" training program of the big leagues, worked out at Lakewood, N. J.

WILD PEPPER MARTIN HAS DRAFT TROUBLES

His Rochester Team Riddled by Service Calls.

BY AL C. WEBER
Rochester Times-Union
By The Associated Press

PORTSMOUTH, O., April 9—It's probably small consolation to Manager John (Pepper) Martin to realize his 1943 Rochester Redwings can do no worse than the 1942 club—finish last in the International league.

Manpower plagging the spitfire "Wild Hoss" of the Osage could mean a duplication of last year's disastrous season. Ali Pepper has to build a pennant or playoff contender from the odds and ends of last season are a handful of 3-A's and untried youngsters.

When it became definite the wings were going nowhere last summer—finishing in the international league cellar for the first time since the St. Louis Cardinals took over operation of the club 11 years ago—the better men were shifted to bolster Card farms which had a pennant chance in their respective leagues. Others were sold and promoted so Martin and the Wings start their new deal with a cold deck.

This applies from Martin down. He replaces the '42 managerial triumvirate of Tony Kaufman, Estel Crabtree and Ray Hayworth. Just what he takes over is something to be determined after Uncle Sam makes a few manpower decisions.

The army already has done a good job of riffling Pepper's forces. Lloyd (Whitey) Moore, down from the Cincinnati Reds and Cards, and Ed Wisman, southpaw hurlers, have been classified in 1-A and decided to remain at home until called. Catcher Charley Marshall, another first stringer, has announced his intention of remaining at his Wilmington, Del., war job. First Sacker Russ Leach has joined the armed services.

All positions with the exception of the pitching and first base are wide open. At the latter spot, Joe Mack will take over. It was planned to have Mack in in the outfield, where he does a satisfactory job, but the induction of Leach left the team without another first baseman.

Ohio Sports Chatter

Copied Right by FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, O., April 9—"Serve it sunny side up," is the motto of Ohio's sports editors these days as they dash up the daily menu on things athletic—a menu abbreviated by a flock of war-occasioned causes.

If you think the scribes aren't kidding, grinning and tongue-in-cheeking their way through the lull, just take a look at these quips scissored from their columns.

Jim Doyle, Cleveland Plain Dealer: As a result of the liquor bottle neck in Ohio, no resident will be able to get more than a pint-a-month. And Buck Isaacs is wondering what's going to happen to the pint-a-minute squads among the customers at the football games down yonder in Columbus (Jim, you know as well as I do that there's a rule against short-snorting in the stadium. We saw a fellow obey it once, too.)

Ken Wurtzbacher, Springfield Sun: Luke Sewell, manager of the Browns, is looking for players to strengthen his draft-riddled club. Wonder if he has a Sewell-icitor's license? (Ben Nelis, Ken's aid, chimed in with "It looks like there won't be any Tinkers-to-Evers - to - Chance combinations this year—just Tinkers,"—which isn't bad if you read it fast.)

* * *

Pete Minego, Portsmouth Times: The ball player who likes his thick steaks rare is going to get 'em just that way this year—rare (Remember the days when the boys said 'I'll give you Fordham and six points?' Now you have to give eight points for just a pound of one of those rams).

* * *

Frank B. Ward, Youngstown Vindicator: Coach Clarence (Doc) Spear may not win many games in his new post at Maryland, but he'll give the Marylanders some new bid-bits for their vocabulary (Ever hear him when he shies into the rough, Frank? Even the dandelions turn pink).

* * *

Lou Berliner, Columbus Dispatch: 'Well, he's draft exempt for a while anyway,' Lou cracked as he gazed mournfully at a typographical error in a yarn about Ollie Vanek, newcomer to the Red Birds. (The item read—'Vanek is 2 years old, and this is his first chance to get out of the bushes.')

Tommy Kouzmanoff, Springfield News: 'We knew women were replacing men in defense work, but over here they're replacing 'em on offense. Four women wrestlers were on this week's card here, practically all the male talent being in the Army, and the season's biggest crowd turned out. (One method of turning an acute shortage into a cute surplus.)

* * *

No. 79851, Ohio Penitentiary News (reporting on fight show within the walls): 'There goes Norman Walker, leading with his head again, acting not so smart again; and No. 30664, in the same enterprising sheet: If the New York Giants fail to look like a million dollars this season they can't blame their environment—they're training at the former John D. Rockefeller estate at Lakewood, N. J. (nice going', fellows.)

* * *

Chaney Ross, Ohio State Lantern: Why, hello there. And so long! (Ross was named sports editor eight days ago, wrote six columns, and then was off to the army. The six-word column was his 'Hail and Farewell.')

PRO TEAMS DRAW COLLEGE GRID STARS

Detroit Gets Sinkwich and Schreiner.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 9 — The National football league members have acquired their legal rights to the cream of the graduating college grid crop, and now all they have to do is go out and find how many of the boys are 4-F in the draft so they can play next season.

The Detroit Lions are heirs to two of the finest of last fall's college players, Frank Sinkwich of Georgia and Dale Schreiner, but their chances of using either until after the war are remote. Sinkwich already is on active duty with the Marines and Schreiner is reported facing induction into the armed forces.

Breaking up the three day meeting, the magnates threw the names on the suspended Cleveland Rams' roster up for grabs last night with the Chicago Bears getting the best of the blind lottery. They drew out Darte Magnani and Jim Benton, two of the Rams' aces.

Detroit got Les Horvath of Ohio State and Chicago took Bill Vickroy of Ohio State.

INDIANS CHALK UP SECOND VICTORY IN EXHIBITION CONTESTS

Tribe Batters Begin To Find Eye, Get 13 Hits Off Indianapolis.

By The Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 9—The Cleveland Indians today could boast of a two-game winning streak in their exhibition game schedule.

The Tribesmen also marked up a new high for base hit production yesterday when they socked for 13 blows in defeating the Indianapolis American association club 7 to 1.

The Cleveland batters protested at the plate in a manner suggesting they are finding their batting form at last.

Johnny Hutchings, late of the Boston Braves and Cincinnati Reds, held the Indians to four hits and one run in four innings but Bob Logan, former Chicago Cub southpaw, was touched for nine blows in the last four stanzas.

Hank Edwards, whose home run accounted for the victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday, manufactured the longest hit, a triple with two on in the seventh.

The Indians would have registered a shutout triumph if the game had been perfectly played. The only run made by Indianapolis was a gift from Edwards, who missed connections on an attempt at a shoe-top catch of a low liner by Joe Moore, and let the ball go through him for a triple in the third inning. A single by Freddie Vaughan then scored Moore.

Rookie Paul Calvert, who was nursing at the time, allowed three hits in the same number of innings. Vernon Kennedy hurled the middle three rounds and yielded four hits but no runs. Jim Bagby permitted no one to reach first base in the three innings he worked.

Al Milnar and Joe Heving were nominated for mound duty in the second game of the series today.

Reds Play Cubs at Bloomington Today

By The Associated Press

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 9—The Cincinnati Reds wind up their Bloomington activities today with a game against the Chicago Cubs, who beat them at French Lick Tuesday. Clyde Shoun and Elmer Riddle are the pitchers, against Claude Passeau, Bill Lee and Lon Warneke.

Saturday they travel to Indianapolis to start a nine-game series with the Cleveland Indians which ends in Cincinnati the week-end of April 17.

Hank Sauer and Damon Phillips have been sent on to Syracuse, the former on option to get more experience. Their departure reduces the squad to 27.

Manager Bill McKechnie put the Reds through a stiff workout yesterday following it up with at least two laps around the quarter mile track. He finished them off with a two-hour hitting session.

CLEVELAND FIGHT SET

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 9—Anton Christoforidis, former light heavyweight champion, will meet Lloyd Marshall, California light heavy and middleweight title claimant, in a 10-round bout at the Arena April 21, Matchmaker Larry Atkins announced.

Connie Looking Fine, Much Better Than His Ball Club

It Looks Like Last Place as Vet Starts 44th Year in A. L.

By DILLON GRAHAM
AP Features Sports Editor

WILMINGTON, Del.—Cornelius McGillicuddy, baseball octogenarian, is looking fine in his camp and the bad you can say [illegible] about his ball club.

The tall string [illegible] of the Philadelphia Athletics appears [illegible] old man [illegible] 44th year [illegible] the Athletics. His hair is snowy [illegible] maybe 15 years younger. He [illegible] there's a [illegible] blue [illegible] face [illegible] a running [illegible] the players [illegible] remember [illegible] happened last [illegible] 30 years [illegible] through Texas [illegible] a funny one to [illegible] the unpredictable [illegible] under Roe Wardech.

He Sits Up Straight

Mr. Mack sits on a pillow on the rough board bench of the dugout. You glance at his straight back and notice your own curved posture and admire the old gentleman's erect carriage. Mr. Mack, that's what everyone calls him. Connie seems a bit flippant for a man with Mr. Mack's age and quiet dignity and extreme courtesy.

He likes a joke, even if it's on him. One of the writers in the dugout was saying that Roberto Estalella, the Cuban outfielder obtained from Washington had never played on a first division team. Roberto says he's always in the second or third division."

Mr. Mack chuckled quietly and remarked: "Well, he's come to the right place to keep that record intact."

Mr. Mack seldom moves from his dugout seat but he keeps a close watch on the field. He'll lean forward at the crack of a bat to see how far one of his players blasted one. Or he'll motion to Earl, his son, to do this or that. Earl is in uniform and actually directs the team's drills.

The A's have a young chap, Irving Hall from Williamsport, Pa., at shortstop. Pete Suder, last year's shortstop, is at second. Dick Siebert, perhaps the club's best performer, is at first and Eddie Mayo at third. Mayo had previous unsuccessful trials with the Giants and Braves.

Johnson Best Hitter

Bob Johnson, the A's best hitter and outfielder for the decade, has been traded to W[illegible] for infielder Jimmy [illegible] and outfielder Estalella. Cullen an inconsistent [illegible] clouts a long ball [illegible] does connect probably will [illegible] one outfield spot. There [illegible] strong lefthanders—Jo[illegible] back to the majors from Scott [illegible] John Welaj, up from Buffalo [illegible] mer Valo, who played regularly a year ago, James Tyack [illegible] Little Rock and Felix Mackiewicz from Wilmington.

The catching will be handled by Hal Wagner, assisted by L[illegible] Brucker and Bob Swift.

Three tossers from last year's right handers Russ Christopher, Luman Harris and Roger Wolff are on deck. No one knows what help may come from the unimpressive group of new rookies. These include Jesse Flores from Los Angeles; John Burrows from Wilmington lefty; Don Black from Petersburg, Va., and Sam Lowry and Talmadge Abernathy from Wilmington.

Frankly, the A's may be easy pushovers for the other American league clubs. It's a tough break for a grand old man like Connie.

Detroit Red Wings Win Hockey's Stanley Cup

BOSTON, April 9 — Detroit Red Wings again own hockey's most prized trophy—the Stanley cup.

The wings defeated Boston Bruins 2 to 0 last night to give the Motor City squad the coveted trophy for the third time in eight years. It was the fourth straight playoff triumph for the highly-favored Detroiters.

WAR WORK CAN'T STOP WHEN THE SUN GOES DOWN

Keep Your Lights Right

America's determination to outbuild the Axis has turned night into day for countless thousands of workers. That calls for more driving after dark—more attention to keeping headlights in good condition. Make sure yours are safe.

See the United Motors Man

We will check to see whether your headlights are properly adjusted or otherwise complying with wartime regulations. Often improvement can be made by such simple measures as cleaning the lenses and reflectors, replacing blackened bulbs or tightening loose connections. Perhaps a Guide Sealed Beam replacement unit is the answer; and if the trouble is more serious, we can take care of that, too.

We also take pride in being prompt. Should there be a delay in "delivery promises," it is due to wartime conditions beyond our normal control. We'll do our best to deliver as quickly as possible.

Width: Pavement 20 feet; Roadway 40 feet.

Length 5,633.59 feet or 1.067 miles.
Estimated cost $42,000.00
Contract to be completed not later than July 31, 1943.

The United States Employment Service, Fred B. Schaeff, Manager, 153 East Center Street, Marion, Ohio, will furnish the successful bidder the employment list from which all qualified unskilled labor as is locally available, shall be selected for this project.

The attention of bidders is directed to the special provisions covering subletting or assigning the contract, the use of domestic materials, selection of labor, hours of employment and conditions of employment.

The minimum wage to be paid to all labor employed on this contract shall be in accordance with the "Schedule of Prevailing Hourly Wage Rates Ascertained and Determined by The Department of Industrial Relations applicable to State Highway Department Improvements in accordance with Sections 17-3, 17-4, 17-4a, 17-5 and 17-5a of the General Code of Ohio."

The bidder must submit with his bid a certified check in an amount equal to five per cent of the estimated cost, but in no event more than ten thousand dollars.

Plans and specifications are on file in the department of highways and the office of the resident district deputy director.

The director reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

H. G. SOURS,
State Highway Director.

PRESIDENT'S ORDER UNSETTLES GRAINS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 9—President Roosevelt's order directing that ceilings be set "on all commodities affecting the cost of living" unsettled grains today and prices dropped more than 2 cents at one time in heavy trading.

Grains subsequently rallied from their lows in diminished activity, but wheat, oats and rye were unable to get back to yesterday's finish. Most corn contracts held at their ceilings and September, after breaking a cent at the opening, recovered a major part of the lost ground.

STOCKS MAKE SHARP DECLINE

Wall Street Losses Following Price Order Most Severe of Year.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 9—The President's sweeping order to hold the entire price line on the eighth day of March sent stocks today into reactions of the sharpest general losses of the year to date.

Speculative holdings of stocks, bonds and commodities were dumped at the opening. The turnover of 700,000 shares in the first hour was the largest for this period since Nov. 8, 1941. Setbacks were reduced in some cases by mid-day but dealings were appreciably.

Secondary listed issues were especially depressed.

Prominent stocks on the retreat included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, American Telephone, U. S. Rubber, J. I. Case, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse, Johns-Manville, Sears Roebuck, and Standard Oil (N. J.).

While the Chief Executive and men on wage increases and profits might have conducted business contingents, the insistence on higher taxes, less spending and more saving was an offsetting factor.

WAR BOND PROGRAMS SCHEDULED ON RADIO

Morgenthau, Dewey, Green and Murray To Speak.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau will deliver the keynote speech of the treasury's April war bond drive from Carnegie hall in New York City over NBC at 9 p. m. eastern war time Monday, the war finance committee announced today. During April the committee will stage a campaign to sell to the American people $13,000,000,000 worth of government securities.

The half hour program will also include speeches by Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, William Green, president of the AFL and Phillip Murray, president of the CIO.

NBC's Army Hour Sunday from 8:30 until 4:30 p. m. will also stress the importance of the campaign. This program is a regular Sunday afternoon feature and a great show.

All-day Monday virtually every program on the air will feature the opening of the great war bond campaign.

Co-eds Take Control Of O.S.U. Student Senate

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 9—Co-eds will direct Ohio State university's student senate for the first time in its 16-year history.

Marjorie Boals of Mansfield, former vice president, became president last night, succeeding Robert Hamlin of Columbus, and Annabel Loren of Columbus was named secretary-treasurer to succeed Francis J. Hammond of Lancaster, who enters the Army next Friday.

Three co-eds candidates for vice president will be voted on next Thursday, filling senate offices.

Jane Palmer of Columbus was elected secretary of the senate court, the first co-ed to hold that office.

Gen. Hazlett Succeeds Gen. Bull in Command

By The Associated Press

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 9—Maj. Gen. Harry F. Hazlett, has succeeded Maj. Gen. Harold R. Bull as commanding general of the replacement and school command, army ground forces here.

Announcement of Maj. General Bull's transfer to another assignment, and of the promotion of Hazlett, chief of staff at the command headquarters here since March 1942, from brigadier general to major general, was announced yesterday by the army command headquarters.

Born at Deersville, O., April 17, 1884, Hazlett has been in the army since 1916 when he was mustered in for duty on the Mexican border as a captain in the Ohio National Guard.

12,000,000 Passenger Tires Available in 1943

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 9—Rubber Director William M. Jeffers said yesterday 12,000,000 new passenger tires would be available for distribution this year as compared with 3,474,000 in 1942.

He told a senate small business subcommittee 7,000,000 new passenger tires already were on hand and the other 5,000,000 will be manufactured from synthetic rubber "and otherwise."

In addition, Jeffers said, 6,300,000 new truck tires will be distributed this year as against 3,525,000 in 1942. There are 1,800,000 new truck tires on hand now, he added.

"The truck tire situation is going to be close," the rubber director testified, "because we havn't developed synthetic rubber to the extent that it is capable of heavy truck or bus duty. And we have to protect the dwindling supply of crude rubber."

The synthetic program, he said, is progressing on schedule, adding "we expect to have the whole program completed by the end of this year."

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

"A MESSAGE," I repeated heartily, but [illegible] during the recital. When I had told my father what my husband had said, his comment was: "No use worrying about it. It may be nothing, and you'll know as soon as Richard gets here."

But I had to force myself to calmness until Dicky came.

"I know you're in trouble," Dicky said as he [illegible] "It was another telegram, telephoned [illegible] to Lillian. It said:

"Appointment at restaurant postponed for few days. Will advise you at least four hours beforehand. Hold yourself in readiness to obey summons."

"How was it signed?" I asked mechanically, for though infinitely relieved at this second postponement of the rendezvous in which I had planned to impersonate Lillian, with the help of Hollorann's magic make-up ability, I dreaded hearing what I was sure would be the answer.

"The same as the other," Dicky said: "Tom Morton."

"This is marvelous news," my father said. "It shows that they are badly confused, and are sparring for time to make other plans. And now, my dear," he asked me, "are you very tired?"

"Not a bit," I said.

"Then I wish you'd get to work decoding the personal that collegiate gangster was reading, the one at which he exclaimed 'Good old Tony!' according to Gus Richard, you, of course, will go directly up to see Mary."

Simple "Personal"

I was glad to see Dicky back at the end of a half hour, for I could get no start on that apparently simple personal reading:

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Teeth in Spring

THE DEMON spring housecleaner has a pretty clean house most of the year, but about this season she decides (if she is really a demon housekeeper) to go all over the premises and see that there is nothing left in the corners.

This excellent habit can well be imitated with respect to our bodies. One item is that everyone should have a thorough toothcleaning every spring and fall.

The Chinese had two or three fundamental theories about teeth. One was that teeth decayed because worms got in them and destroyed the enamel. The name for decayed tooth in China is chong ya, which means worm tooth. They believed that the small particles of food left in the crevices of the teeth attract the worms and hence bring about the decay. Translated into modern terms, it means that the worms are really germs and that the primary cause of dental decay is infection, the germs invading the food particles which are left behind.

This is still a good theory about dental decay, although some dentists insist that a diet high in minerals and vitamins will prevent dental caries.

Tooth decay in the United States is certainly one of the commonest conditions. Less than two per cent of the population escape it entirely.

The two structures of the tooth which are attacked first by decay —the enamel and the dentin— have very little blood supply. They, therefore, cannot benefit from the defense which follows good nutrition and other forces used by the body elsewhere to combat the influences of bad health. Measurements show that the amount of nutritive material passing into the dentin is about one-tenth of the amount which reaches the bone, and the enamel receives only about one-tenth of the amount passing to the dentin.

In other words, the resistance of the body cannot play so important a part in resisting or preventing dental decay as it does in other diseases. The break-down or decay of carbohydrate food stuffs on the surface of the teeth is undoubtedly the primary cause of dental caries. This is proved by the fact that the areas on the tooth surface where carious cavities develop are those in which food accumulates. Also, enamel can be broken down only by the action of acid, and protein foods, such as milk or eggs, do not give rise to such acids.

The prevention of caries is just as important as its cure. The Chinese rule used to be that they rinsed out the mouth after every meal. We can brush our teeth with a good tooth brush twice a day. The eating of fresh fruits and vegetables helps to improve the appearance of the teeth and to clean out food particles. But once more, to repeat our primary thesis, the teeth should have a complete housecleaning by a competent dentist twice a year.

For Saturday, April 10

ACCORDING to astral pressage things should be accelerated to high tempo, with the energies, forces and faculties all keyed to high gear for progress and ambitious purposes. Nevertheless there should not be any wild flights into the realm of fancy or imagination.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year in which cherished plans and ambitious objectives may move definitely and decisively into advanced levels of accomplishment. Highly stimulated forces and faculties, backed up by aggressive action and well-formulated plans and programs, should help the affairs to a conspicuous place, even though methods be bold and radical.

A child born on this day may have much constructive ability, backed up by ardor, indomitable will and purpose.

YANKS BAG 70 NAZI PLANES IN 2 RAIDS

Good Score Made Over Paris and Antwerp.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, April 9.—American [illegible] destroyed 70 German [illegible] in Sunday-Monday [illegible] of the Reich's capital and [illegible] and Monday's raid on the Erla [illegible] at Antwerp, it was announced officially yesterday.

Forty-seven German planes were shot down in the Reich's heartland, most of them from Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering's crack squadrons of yellow-nosed Focke-Wulf fighters, the Eighth U. S. army air force headquarters said.

The following day, attacking the Erla works at Antwerp, the American bombers destroyed 23 German fighters.

Escorting RAF, allied and dominion fighters shot down a total of 10 more challenging fighters in both raids, pushing the overall figure to 80.

Eight bombers and eight allied fighters failed to return from the missions.

Equipped with 12 tabulating keys, a counting machine has been invented to record the number of passengers in passing vehicles of three different types.
